Literary.

The Edinburgh Review for July, i Republished by L. Scott & Co., 54 Gold Street, New York. Price $3 per annum.

The present number contains an unusual variety of articles—no less than twelveon the subjects of the most striking interest in the literary and political world. Our readers cannot be too often reminded of the practice of this and the other leading reviews of giving prompt attention to the topics of the day, and by their deliberation and research correcting the hasty impulses of the moment. The mere titles of the principal articles in this number of the Edinburgh are sufficiently attractive, and need no comment from us to indicate their scope or purport. It is enough to say that they are all subjects on which information by a competent authority is very acceptable; and if any one wishes to make further research he will generally find numerous indications of authorities by reference to which he may verify or correct the statements and arguments of the reviewer. The titles referred to are as follows: Chevalier on the probable Fall in the Value of Gold; Latest Geological Discoveries; The Patrimony of. St. Peter; Mrs. Grote's Memoir of Ary Scheffer; Prince Dolgoroukow on Russia and Serf Emancipation; Correspondence of Humboldt and Varnhagen von Ense; Cardinal Mai's Edition of the Vati-

The Westminister Review for July, Republished by L. SCOTT & Co., 54 Gold · Street, New York. Price $3 per annum. I. Strikes: their Tendencies and Remedies.
 II. The Mill on the Ploss.—III. Rawlinson's Bampion Lectures for 1859.— IV. The Post Office Monopoly.—V. Ary Scheffer.—VI. The rish Education Quesschener.—VII. Germany; its Strength and Weakness.—VIII, Thoughts in Aid of Faith.—IX. Grievaacus of Hungarian Catholics.—X. The French Press.—XI. Contemporary Literature.

The foregoing concise enumeration of the Contents of the present number is more convincing than any labored commentary we might write, of the value of review literature. It is a fair specimen of the variety which characterizes every number of the series of re-publications of which this forms a part. Questions in Politics, Social and Political Economy, Theology, The Fine Arts, and The landlerd while lighting the new comers Education, which can only be superficially to bed, discovered the labors of Easterwood touched upon in the newspaper press, here and company much to their regret. In conundergo that calm consideration and discussion best calculated to insure the formation of a correct judgment, and to elicit the who will without doubt treat these gentletruth. 'Reflecting faithfully the impress of men in a mouner becoming their standing in passing events upon the minds of the think- society, and with distinguished considering men of the day, these Reviews form an invaluable Companion to the Newspaper. The newspaper has barely time to record the transactions of the day; the review notes the principles at work, and holds sloft the lamp of reason and experience. In the present disturbed state of the world, these publications are descrying of eminent attention; and the different principles represented by each Review afford the reader an invaluable means of comparison. Each number is complete and consistent with itself; and is, therefore, far preferable to any compilation from various sources which unites heterogeneous articles and combines inconsistent views.

Jail Delivery

aimost. Saturday morning rumors were plen-ty upon the street of a breaking, or attempted breaking from Jail. In order that we might have the facts in the matter, we called at the popular Marlborough Hotel, upon Marlbor. ough Street. The popular landlord received us with his usual bland manners, immediately conducted us to the grand reception room and propared to give us the wished for information

This thriving establishment is usually well (?) filled, but is crewded during the fash-ionable watering season with people exhibiting a large variety of nationalities.

Among the boarders who have had rooms thus far through the season, is a gentleman who displays in no unmistakeable manner, the peculiarities of the native African. He has rendered himself distinguished by the dexterity with which he transferred the property of another sable son to his own use. The natives of fair Italy's supply clime are more largely represented at this place of fashionable resort than those of any other country. Their pref-erence for poor money over good has been alluded to in our columns at a previous date.

The "mother country" is represented by a native of old England who is a great fighter, and ought to be sent to China or Syrie, where he can indulge in his favorite pastime to his heart's content, and in a lawful manner.

Strange as it may seem these several gentleman felt desirous of exchanging their present fashionable quarters, for others, or none at all, and what is unusual, they experienced this desire at such an hour of the night, that the doors of the establishment were closed against them. The Englishman -Easterwood by name-undertook to improvise a door for himself, from his sleeping apartment. For this purpose he made use of a saw, obtained by the aid of Spirits, Hly, or from some other equally mysterious source. By this he sawed off in two places the bar in his door, which was wrought iron, and three fourths of an inch in diameter. He thus constructed an opening seven and a half by eleven inches, through which he wiggled out in the main hall. But here he encountered another wrought iron bar of one inch in diameter, which shielded a window. No thing daunted by these obstacles, but gathering spirrit, determination, and strength in proportion to these demands for these valuable components of a high souled man, he forced the saw aforesaid into the new bar. In this he had not only the selfish motive of releasing himself but the generous decire of aiding his companion, inasmuch as when his own release was effected, they had the same avenue open to themselves.

Unfortunately, this Hotel having a large patronage, especially during the fashionable watering season, was surprised by a visit from Mayor Crauston, accompanied by two or three gentleman (?) who took ludgings. was arrested. To-day the whole will call on Judge Ames, at the State House Beach Bathing. The season just culminating has been one of almost unprecedented success for Messrs. Tew & Crosby, lessess of the bathing privilege at Easton's Beach. There were some days last week when the number of bather's reached six hundred. Yestorday the number of bathers reached as high as free hundred. reached as high as four hundred. It is an admitted fact that we have the best beach for bathing in the country, and certainly there is none better managed than this under the con trol of Mosses. Tew & Grosby. They are the right men in the right place. With all sorts of dispositions to deal with, they yet manage to give general satisfaction, and give every man, woman and child who applies for it, a com-fortable wash. They are deserving of all the success which has attended their efforts.

"H1! H1! H1!"-Fast driving continues to be a failing with the gentry on the hill. Yesterday a man had a spannodic attack of the disease, and a carriage just about of him not happening to locomote fast enough to suit his fancy, he ran his own against it, (a huggy,) smashing one of the wheels. According to the report of the Commissioner of Pensions, only life revolutionary patriots are yet living to receive this evidence of their country's gratitude. One after another of these noble mon pass away, until at lest all are gone of that illustrious race of use. Although Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit cures Dyspepsia, Colic, Indigestion and Bad Spirits, thereby lengthening the lives of men, yet it cannot make persons last forever, if it could, these noble men of the revolution would be preserved for years to come.

POOR RICHARD'S EYE WATER.

For sixteen years I had sore and infamed syes and cyclus. My father and myself spent not less than two hundred and fifty dollars for a cure, but all in year. Although we employed six of the best physicians in thickly at different thues, they used all the skill in their power, but to no purpose; so in famed were my cyclids that all my eyelashes came out. AROMATIC DIGESTIVE CORDIAL.—
This excellent and agreeable preparation is one of the best means of improving the appetite; promoting digestion, and piving strength and tone to the stomach, which has yet been offered to the public.

It is an old German receipt, and has been in use for many years in the families of the manufacturers, where it has proved an invaluable remedy for DYSPEPSIA. HEART-BURN, PLATULENCE and URAMPS IN THE STOMACH, arising from cold or indigestion. All persons having the least tendency to indigestion should never be without it, as a small wine-glass full, laken after meals, will exclude the possibility of contracting the dysepsia.

It is composed of afteen ingredients. Bitters and Aromatics, and only needs to be tested to be approved and appreciated.

To persons who feel any disposition to Chills or cramps after bathing, it is of the highest benefit, as it is a mild but prompt stimulant, and produces a healthy and generous glow throughout the system, innocediately after taking it.

erous glow throughout the system, unnormately after taking it.

It is an agreeable beverage, and may be used with safety, pleasure and advantage by invalids, and by those in health.

NO. 3 ORANGE STREET, PROVI
A FTER an extensive practice for many A years, and witnessing the rise and fall of empyricism to almost an alarming extent, using to the laxity of the laws in large cities, which gives to the mere ignoranus the same privilege of practicing medicine in all diseases incident to the human system, which the most scientific, skilful and experienced thysician and surgeon can in any case claim, deems it his duty to caution strangers to beware of certain up-starts, who make great protensions to the healing art, without so much as a shadow of medical education.

The experience of many years in cases of a venereal nature, in its various forms, will prove beneficial to those suffering from such diseases, and from his practical knowledge of crary symptom consequent on, or arising from badly cured cases of Venereal Complaint, he would caution all having any accondary symptoms remaining, to be at once cured properly before it has undermited their constitution, and broken down their a tellectual faculties.
